THAT INJUNCTION SUIT

Proceeding by Bell Telephone Co.
Against Benton Harbor and
St. Joe

IS ARGUED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Defense Made on Proposition that Company Has No Franchise
Consequently no Rights.

The injunction proceeding of the Michigan Bell Telephone company against Benton Harbor and St. Joseph, by which it sought to restrain the two municipalities from interfering with the company in the extension of its lines by the erection of poles in the streets, was argued in part before the circuit court this morning.

The complainants counsel, Wells, Angell, Boynton & McMillan, of Detroit, were absent and Judge Coolidge heard only one side of the case, the defendants', which was presented by Lawyer James O'Hara, G. M. Valentine and F. H. Ellsworth. The arguments against the injunction were vigorous. Mr. O'Hara represented St. Joseph and during the entire forenoon the court heard the claims of the two cities. Summed up the defense rested on the single proposition that the company had never been granted a franchise by either city and therefore had no right to use the streets for its poles. Further arguments in the case will be heard this evening by Judge Coolidge when the case of the complainants will be presented.

Answers to the bills of complaint in which an injunction is prayed for by the Bell company were filed by the two cities in the circuit court today. They are both much the same the situation in the two cities being not unlike.

In the answer filed by Benton Harbor it is contended that the statutes of the state of Michigan expressly provides that the municipality shall have control of its streets and the city council may regulate and prohibit the erection of telephone or telegraph poles. It is denied that the Bell telephone company ever had permission or consent from the city to erect its poles. The poles were erected without first obtaining a franchise and the company therefore becomes a trespasser and has no right to leave the poles standing in the streets.

It is held that the city never used the poles of the complainant for carrying a fire alarm wire and therefore is not under any obligation to the company. There is no contract existing by which the company is given permission to use the streets and therefore has no right to erect poles without first obtaining permission. It is stated that the removal of the poles of the complainant by the street commissioner August 3 last was commanded by resolution of the city council because they were erected in violation of a city ordinance, which provides against any excavation in the streets without the written consent of the council.

The permission granted the Twin City telephone company to erect poles and wires, the answer holds, was granted under a franchise imposing such restrictions as the city council deemed advisable. By reason of such franchise, it is shown that the telephone rates have been greatly reduced to the subscribers and users of telephones, which operates as a saving of many hundred dollars to the citizens.

It is held that the Bell company proposed to put up its poles for the sole purpose of defying the authority of the city, not because there was a demand for the same. Its scheme, it is alleged, was to destroy all proper competition so that it might re-establish its former exorbitant rates for telephone service. Although once in possession of a patronage of 200 phones, it is shown that at present the company has only 16 telephones and those are substantially given away for the purpose of maintaining its existence until it can stifle all competition. The complainants, it is held formerly charged $36 for service which the Twin City company supplies at $25.

The United States Treasury Checks
for Bank Depositors.

Receiver Alinger has commenced to fill out the checks for the 30 per cent dividend for the depositors of the First national bank. The drafts are on the sub-treasury at New York and are pretty lithographs containing in one corner a picture of Samuel Dexter, a former official of the treasury department.

There are about 1,000 depositors but less than 400 have secured their receiver's certificates. Those who do not secure their certificates this week will not be paid with the first batch of depositors. No depositor can be paid until his draft has been sent to Washington and received the signature of the comptroller. This cannot be done until the claim is proved and the receiver's certificate issued.

ELIZA'S LOVE LETTERS IN COURT

They Will be Offered in Evidence
Before the Close of the Great Case.

This afternoon at 1:30 o'clock the trial of Peter Peterson, for attempted murder, was begun in the circuit court. Peterson on the afternoon of July 4, last, went to the home of Miss Eliza Harris in this city, implored of her to marry him and upon her refusal aimed a bullet at her heart. A corset steel saved the young lady's life. The ball from her infuriated lover's revolver struck a steel stay over the heart and glanced harmlessly away. Peterson then turned the revolver upon himself and as he was about to pull the trigger his sweetheart's parents interposed.

Unable to procure bail Peterson was imprisoned and ever since the tragedy he has remained an inmate of the county jail. The fact of the assault will not be denied by the defendant but an attempt will be made to show that the deed was the result of emotional insanity, under which the accused labored when he made the assault. A large package of love missives written by Miss Harris to Peterson are in possession of the defendant's counsel and will be offered in evidence. Peterson is represented by Gore & Harvey and the prosecution is conducted by Prosecuting Attorney Valentine. Following is the jury:

Robert B. Franklin, Bertrand.
Fred Kerwin, Benton.
W. H. Seltz, Royalton.
Isaac Edwards, Chikaming.
Harry Vincent, Lincoln.
George W. Boone, Niles.
Harvey L. Draper, Benton Harbor.
Darwin Crane, Oronoko.
David L. Zaring, Galien.
L. P. Carmichael, Benton Harbor.
Joseph Richards, St. Joseph.
Robert Bretschneider, Niles.

When the case was called this afternoon the court room was packed with spectators, most of whom were ladies. Mrs. Harris, mother of Miss Lizzie, was the first witness called.

The action for damages brought by Mrs. Clara B. Watt, of Stevensville, against Liquor Dealer Frank Johnson for selling liquor to her husband, who is alleged to be a habitual drunkard, has been withdrawn, a settlement of the case having been effected.

The case of Henry Finnegan against the city of St. Joseph was continued over the term.

Judge Coolidge today gave Secretary Hollis until next Monday to show cause why a mandamus should not be issued compelling him to show the number of shares he owns in the Tunnel company. Lawyer Bridgman made a motion that the petition for a mandamus be dismissed. The motion was promptly over-ruled and a hearing of the case on its merits must therefore be had.

Dr. W. E. Dennis Said to Have Bled

Dr. W. E. Dennis was received at the county jail this morning to await his examination before Justice Dobson of Niles, November 15 on complaint of grand larceny. He is alleged to have sold advertising space to Niles merchants, collected for the same, and departed with no intention of giving them value received. He raised by that means over $30. He carried a grip when he arrived at the county jail this morning which he said contained some old clothes to wear in jail. He explained that he might soil his best clothes by contact with the bars. He is a man of striking appearance, well dressed and has handsome features.

ISFODEL CASTLE.

Many years have vanished from the face of the earth since the castle of Isfodel was first erected. The ravages of war have filled many a land with sorrow, and the angel of peace has often visited the world, bringing balm to the weary. Empires have arisen and, like the paling of a star, have disappeared from the firmament of time since that remote period.

At the time of our narrative Isfodel had undergone many changes since the days of its former possessors. It still, however, presented the same granitic appearance. The wild, wrathful ocean beat against the base of the cliff on which the castle stood, and dark and lonely appeared the great forest a few rods away. Lord Hilderbrand and many of his followers had passed away to the land of the soul.

Finally Isfodel fell into the possession of Lord Hurdron, an exceedingly unpopular man, of crabbed disposition and darkened reputation. He was domineering in his conduct toward those beneath him in social standing, and, added to this, he bore such a selfish spirit that he won the respect of only a few persons.

Very different in her nature was Lady Ella, the only daughter of Lord Hurdron. She possessed all those qualities and accomplishments that tend toward the development of true womanhood. She was greatly liked by all who knew her, and well did she merit the love that her friends bore her.

If there was one thing to which Lord Hurdron was violently opposed, it was that Lady Ella should marry a man who possessed not wealth and bore not the title of nobleman. She well knew her father's antipathy to her forming an intimacy with any of the lower class. Still this did not deter her from seeking the company of Roland Hilter, with whom she had fallen deeply in love. He possessed nothing in his nature that even Lord Hurdron could find aught against had not the latter such an austere and jealous disposition.

The knowledge of love meetings is sometimes difficult to keep from suspicious parents, and so it was in the case of Lady Ella and her lover. It was not long before Lord Hurdron became cognizant of the interviews between his daughter and Roland Hilter, and he immediately proposed to break the intimacy.

Early one morning, as he was passing through the dark forest of Athol, Lord Hurdron's attention was arrested by the sound of voices falling on his ear. Presently Lady Ella, accompanied by Roland Hilter, appeared in view. Not wishing to be observed by them, Lord Hurdron stepped behind a large tree to wait until they passed by.

"Dear Roland, let us sit down for a few moments," said Lady Ella in a sweet voice.

Lord Hurdron managed to restrain his temper and wait for further developments. He saw the young couple sit down under the umbrageous foliage of a large oak tree. He beheld the young man pass his arm tenderly around the waist of the fair girl, and he noticed that she did not attempt to resist this act of familiarity.

"Dear Ella," said Roland, "let us leave this country and fly to some foreign land, where our marriage can take place unhindered by your people, for you know that were your father to learn of our betrothal he would spurn me from these premises as he would a reptile."

"Dear Roland," replied Lady Ella, "wherever you go there will I bear you company. What is the love I entertain for my people compared with the deep affection that has chained our hearts together?"

"Then this evening at the red room await my coming." And as Roland uttered these words he arose from his seat and together they walked away.

As Lord Hurdron heard these words he inwardly cursed the soul of Roland Hilter. He waited until the young lovers had gone some distance, when he emerged from his place of concealment and quietly wended his way toward the castle. On his way he met one of his servants, to whom he spoke a few words. The man's face slightly changed color as his master's voice fell on his ears.

"A thousand pounds, Rupert, if you perform the deed," said Lord Hurdron, as he departed.

"I understand, my lord." And the man walked away.

Roland Hilter lived a mile from the castle of Isfodel, and it was his favorite pastime to wander along the high bank that bordered the ocean and listen to the beating of the waters below. Rarely a day passed but that he spent a portion of his time there.

On the afternoon following the events just narrated, Roland was walking leisurely along the bank, gazing on the ocean, when a small boat came sailing on the water.

And the child, now calmly sleeping,
Seeks not its destiny to know.
Leave it in the Father's keeping!
Thou do well the mother's part—Gently training, gently leading—
Guide the restless, untired heart
With love's chiding, with love's pleading.

"Yet his cries would probably reach the castle."

"I fear not. The sound of the waves would drown them."

The eyes of Rupert glittered with a dangerous light as he heard these words. "Do you think the edge of the bank is firm?" he asked. "Would there not be danger of its crumbling if one should stand close to the brink?"

"None in the least. I have stood many times within an inch of the edge and felt no danger whatever. See."

As Roland spoke he stepped forward, and presently only a small space intervened between him and the side of the precipice. Ere he had time to return he felt himself being pushed over the cliff. Impulsively he stretched forth his hand and grasped Rupert, his assailant, by the arm. The latter struggled to free himself, but in vain, and a moment afterward the pitiless ocean received them in its depths.

That evening Lady Ella waited long for the appearance of Roland, but he did not come. She knew not that, tossed here and there by the angry waves, his lifeless form was in the ocean. The next day, as she was walking along the edge of the cliff, her mind full of strange forebodings, the upturned face of her dead lover met her vision. Her head swam, and she toppled over the cliff. As she fell the ocean clasped her in its embrace, and the gates of death were thrown open to receive another soul.

That night Lord Hurdron retired to the red room. The nonappearance of Lady Ella did not seem to affect him. As he sat down his thoughts reverted to the past.

"Ha!" he muttered. "That young scamp, Hilter, will no longer trouble these regions. It"—

"Think so, father?" interrupted a sepulchral voice at his side.

Lord Hurdron turned his eyes to whence came the voice. As he did so he beheld the dripping apparition of Lady Ella leaning on her lover's arm.

"By my troth!" cried the astonished lord. "So you have returned, you base scoundrel? Death be upon you!"

As he spoke he drew a pistol and fired at the spectral form. When the smoke cleared away, no one save Lord Hurdron remained in the room.

For a moment he hardly stirred. Then his head dropped on his breast, and his eyes put on a glazed appearance. When the servants entered, only the dead body of Lord Hurdron remained in the room.

The physicians pronounced his death as the result of heart disease, but they knew not what was the rightful cause.

The bodies of Rupert, Roland Hilter and Lady Ella were never recovered. The sea refused them to mortal man.

For years the red room of Isfodel castle was haunted. It is said that the pale form of Lady Ella often appeared at the window, as if in waiting for some one. The castle has long since been destroyed, but the strange story connected with it is still fresh in the minds of many persons in England.—Exchange.

Philadelphia Doorways.

Such doorways have their histories unquestionably, but they are lost in the dust of the past. Who designed the well proportioned panels, who fashioned the brass knocker and whose taste devised the simple decorations will never be divulged. The owner has likewise passed into oblivion, leaving only the speechless door behind to awaken the curiosity and stimulate the emulation of newer generations.

If the Germantown doorways were plain almost to severity, those in the city proper were often more decorated with the various beautiful devices of the colonial period. Among these the faulight was almost universally employed, and besides adding an ornamental appearance to the exterior furnished often the high light for the hall within.

In designing it is well for a decorator to know when to stop and to have the courage to do so. This virtue the post Revolutionary architect possessed to a marked degree, as is exemplified in the doorway described. The faulight supported by two square columns, the merest suggestion of carving and a short wreath over the door were all that was essential to make an attractive entrance, therefore, having done this much, he dared to stop, although many plain surfaces remained upon which his skill might well have been displayed.—"House Beautiful."

Buddhist Remains in Java.

The fact is not generally appreciated that there are ruins of Buddhist and Brahmanic temples in middle Java surpassing in extent and magnificence anything to be seen in Egypt or India. There, in the heart of the steaming tropics, in that summer land of the world below the equator, on an island where volcanoes cluster more thickly and vegetation is richer than in any other region of the globe, where earthquakes continually rock and shatter and where deluges descend during the rainy half of the year, remains nearly intact the temple of Boro Boedor, covering almost the same area as the great pyramid of Gizeh. It is ornamented with hundreds of life size statues and miles of bas-reliefs presenting the highest examples of Greco-Buddhist art—a sculptured record of all the arts and industries, the culture and civilization, of the golden age of Java, of the life of the seventh, eighth and ninth centuries in all the farther east, a record that is not written in hieroglyphs, but in plainest pictures carved by sculptor's chisel. That solid pyramidal temple, rising in magnificent sculptured terraces, that was built without mortar or cement, without columns or pillars, of solid stone, is a masterpiece of architecture.

THE EVENING NEWS.

THIRD YEAR—NO. 648.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1897.

ONE CENT.

HE IS BOUND OVER.

W. H. Engleright Will Have a Hearing in the Circuit Court in January.

CHARGE OF OBSTRUCTING R. R.

Damaging Testimony Adduced at the Preliminary Examination Yesterday.

W. H. Engleright, accused of placing an obstruction on the Milwaukee, Benton Harbor & Columbus railway tracks, had his preliminary hearing before Justice Nichols in Berrien Springs yesterday and was held for trial in the circuit court in the sum of $800. He was given until today to procure a surety for his bond, and in case he is not successful he will be imprisoned.

The facts brought out at the examination give the case a serious aspect so far as Engleright is concerned. One witness for the prosecution testified to having seen Engleright and his wife carrying posts toward the railway tracks and to having heard the posts fall upon the rails. Another witness stated that he saw the defendant lay several posts upon the tracks.

A sensation was created during the hearing by the confession of a witness that Engleright had approached him and offered to pay him if he would not testify against him. The witness said he had been offered $5 to forget what he knew about the case, and but for the tact of Prosecutor Valentine the witness would probably have concealed his story and put in a claim for $5.

The examination opened at 11 o'clock. The defendant was represented by Lawyer Bacon, of Niles. The defendant is about 40 years of age, tall and angular. His wife, a large, fleshy woman, was present at the hearing. She is partially deaf, but she did not allow a word of the testimony to escape her. She drew her chair to the side of the witness and strained every nerve to catch the story. Prosecuting Attorney Valentine appeared for the people. The little court room was packed with spectators.

Robert Grabin, living close to the Engleright home, which is situated five and one-half miles south of Berrien Springs on the line of the M., B. H. & C. railway, was the first witness called. On Sunday, October 24, he testified that he saw Engleright and his wife carrying posts from their wheat field toward the railway tracks. He heard the heavy posts fall upon the rails, but a train of cars on a siding so obscured his view as to prevent his seeing Engleright actually employed in putting the obstruction on the track. This occurred between 8 and 9 o'clock in the morning and a few hours later the witness went to the spot toward which Engleright and his wife had proceeded with the posts, and there on the railway tracks found several spools of barbed wire and a large pile of posts and some boards. The ends of the posts were tucked beneath the rails on one side and on the other side rested on top of the rails. The debris was so securely anchored to the track that in the witness' mind it would have wrecked a train. He at once informed the crew of the steam shovel working near by and from there information was sent the company's officials in this city and the first train out Monday morning found the obstruction and removed it.

Abner Kelsey, a boy 18 years old, was the most sensational witness sworn. He had told Detective Whitney and Attorney Kelley that he had seen Engleright place the posts on the track, but when he took the stand at the preliminary hearing his memory had failed him and he was exasperatingly ignorant. He had forgotten the most crucial features of his original story. Prosecutor Valentine toiled with the witness for a long time before he succeeded in getting the boy's mind in working order and by a clever, round-about course, the prosecutor finally drew from the witness the acknowledgment that Engleright had offered to pay him if he did not divulge the information he possessed concerning the affair. He was to receive $5 he said. As soon as he could be induced to talk he said he had seen Engleright place two or three of the posts on the track.

Detective Whitney, employed by the company was sworn. He said that Engleright in the witness' presence had stated to Attorney Kelley upon being advised by the attorney that the obstruction might have caused a serious wreck and being asked why he placed the obstruction on the track, remarked that he didn't give a damn whether a train was wrecked or not. To the detective, the evidence showed Engleright had not denied having placed the posts on the track.

The testimony showed that Engleright had given the railway company considerable trouble; that previously he had built a fence across the right-of-way; that while the men were engaged in constructing the road bed Engleright stood on guard with a shot gun with the supposed intention of shooting the first man who planted a foot on his land.

BIG BUSINESS.

Lake Commerce Greater This Year Than Ever Before.

Deputy Collector of Customs Antisdale entered upon the duties of his office June 16, about the time lake commerce with Benton Harbor commences in earnest. The freight receipts and shipments from that time to date as shown by figures obtained from his books, very forcibly speak of the importance of Benton Harbor as a trading centre.

From June 16 to July 1 the total amount of freight received by boat was 5,315 tons and the shipment by tons during the same length of time was 3,303. Of the receipts there were 764 tons of flour, 1,887 tons of salt, 1,659 tons of general merchandise and 1,005 tons of lumber or 670,000 feet. The shipments included 142 tons of flour, 1,307 of salt and 1,914 tons of fruit.

For July the total shipment in tons was 6,879, and the receipts 6,947. The shipments almost equal the receipts which is explained by the movement of fruit. The receipts for that month included in tons 373 of flour, 2,254 general merchandise and 4,320 of lumber. The vessels clearing during the same length of time carried 4,486 tons of fruit, 1,323 of general merchandise and 1,060 coal.

During the month of August the volume of business very materially swelled. Vessels entering here delivered 9,105 tons and cleared with a total of 8,204 tons. The fruit shipment this month reached 176,029 packages.

September was a busy month, the total receipts being 8,669, tons and shipments, 8,897. It was the month when the fruit business had reached its height, a total of 680,791 packages being carried across the lake by the two steamer lines.

The receipts for October reached 10,626 tons, which is perhaps the best showing of any one month in the history of the city. The car ferry business is responsible for the increase in receipts, one ferry running continuously with full cargoes in and nearly always carrying the limit of her capacity out. The shipments for the month reached 5,683 tons. The fruit business had dropped off until only 95,650 packages went out.

LARGE GREEN HOUSE.

Twin City Floral Company Now Has the Largest Green House in This Section.

GREAT ECONOMY IN SPACE.

The Manager Was Formerly Gardener for Potter Palmer and George M. Pullman.

The Twin City Floral company, recently organized in this city by Samuel and Harry Gentle and J. H. Brumby, has just finished the largest and most modernly appointed green house between Chicago and Grand Rapids.

The plant has the appearance of a city establishment, has a well appointed office and five green houses side by side attached, each over 100 feet long. The buildings are easy of access, being located just off of Seventh street, near the scene of last summer's fire.

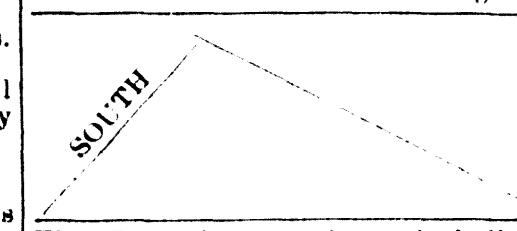

It is the purpose of the company to not only supply the local trade but to ship their product extensively to Chicago. They have already begun shipping chrysanthemums and other flowers and the returns are very satisfactory. A visit to this flower-growing industry is very pleasing and interesting. A great compliment was given the firm when the lady managers of the coming chrysanthemum fair barred the Twin City company from competing for the prizes.

The green houses of years ago were built with the three-quarters span to the south; that is, the long and slightly sloping side of the roof was toward the south and the short, steep side of the roof toward the north. The idea may be had from the following illustration:

Way they used to build green houses—three-quarters span of roof toward the south.

In the old-fashioned way it was impossible to build the green houses connected as the high north peak of one house would shade to low south side of its neighbor on the north. While in Chicago Mr. Brumby originated the idea of building the three-quarters span to the north and this enables the utilizing of all the ground space without the shading of any of the beds, and a large saving in fuel bills. The flowers raised in the hot houses of Mr. Brumby's pattern are the most perfect grown. The three-quarters span to the north is illustrated in the following:

Way Twin City green house is built—three-quarters span of roof toward the north.

Mr. Brumby, the manager of the company is an experienced florist. He was the gardener of Potter Palmer in Chicago several years ago and later was in charge of the extensive green houses of George M. Pullman at Pullman.

TWIN CITY TELEPHONE 172.

THURSDAY, NOV. 4, 1897.

SENATOR Gorman tried to serve two masters and he is likely to come out in the orthodox way.

THERE is consolation in the fact that the republicans didn't come out of it as bad as the gold democrats did.

THE increased silver vote in Nebraska will increase the desire of Senator Thurston to retire from wicked politics.

THE most remarkable thing about the results of the election is that the Henry George men do not know that they were beaten.

THE second Luetgert trial will begin next week. The excitement attending the elections lost Luetgert from the public gaze for a few days.

NOW mathematically inclined politician will soon have it figured out how the New York election would have gone if Henry George had lived.

SENATORS Hanna and Gorman will be smaller men in their respective parties than they once were. Senator Platt of New York is with them.

COLONEL Watterson stated in Benton Harbor that the gold democrats would carry Kentucky. The colonel is better authority on Abraham Lincoln than he is on politics.

GOVERNOR Pingree doesn't feel as put out about the election of a democrat for mayor of Detroit as he tries to make people believe. It proves that there is but one republican who can carry Detroit and that is Hazen S. Pingree.

GOVERNOR Mount of Indiana has given up his hopes of bringing the lynchings of his state to justice. The best way to punish lynchings is to prevent lynchings. This can always be done by the strict and speedy enforcement of law. A lax administration of justice causes people to become impatient and lawless. When a county is so wicked as to lynch all the participants in the lynching to justice it would have caused the almost entire depopulation of one of Indiana's best counties.

It is partisanship more than patriotism that rejoices over the election of Boss Croker's man in Greater New York. Thirty-three years ago Croker was indicted for shooting and killing John McKenna in an election row, and later the jury disagreed and he was finally given his liberty. Seven years ago he was a poor man. In New York state he succeeded in electing a legislature over which he was dictator. Suddenly he became a millionaire and now owns a home costing $200,000. When the Lexow committee began its investigation, Croker suddenly left for Europe, announcing that he was out of American politics forever. He returned and dictated the nomination of Van Wyck and is now the biggest political boss in the world. Why people should rejoice over the triumph of such a man is beyond all understanding. It is a sad compliment to the republican machine of New York that it preferred Croker to Low.

PINGREE IS WRATHY.

Thinks Supreme Court Judges are Paid Too Much.

Speaking of the democratic victory in Detroit Governor Pingree relieved his mind by saying:

"It's the way the people have taken to bring about a new deal next time. I attribute the defeat of Mr. Black to the McMillans, the supreme court, the street railway company, Tom Johnson, Albert Pack and the rest of that outfit. It's a big victory for them over me and my friends who have been fighting for the rights of the people. They are like the little boys who wanted all the boys to play their game or they would take their playthings and go home.

"They don't want any man to get an office that they can't run to suit themselves. They'd rather elect a Democrat that they can dictate to than a Republican that they can't. It don't make any difference to them who it is just so long as he'll do what they tell him to do. The people are getting almighty sick of that sort of thing. It's the same way down in New York where Tom Platt wanted to boss the whole show. The people won't have it much longer. They turned Tom Platt down, and there's going to be a new deal. You just mark what I tell you, there's going to be a new deal right here in Michigan.

"This election reminds me that if I should happen to call a special session of the legislature this winter one of the things I had better ask for would be a reduction in the salaries of the supreme court judges. Maybury and his crowd say they want lower taxes, don't they, and that would save the taxpayers $35,000 just as easy as not. We people up here in Wayne county have to pay a good slice of their salaries. There ain't one of 'em that could earn $2,500 in private practice. I doubt if they could do that well. But there they sit and draw $7,000, and they think they're little tin gods on wheels."

CAPITALISTS.

Klondike Country Does Not Need Them.

From a letter from R. W. Schmidt and J. C. Edwards of Juneau, Alaska, the following is taken:

"We do not need any capitalists; we have capital enough—dig all the capital we want out of the ground. Bring us only grub, plenty of good, substantial grub, grub put up so it will not spoil, as part of ours did. The bacon is too salty and not smoked enough. For eight months in the year chunks of ice and snow have to be melted for water over the stove, and to soak bacon and beans in water over night don't go. It is impracticable to use yeast cakes for making bread, the stuff is frozen solid before you know it, and it takes too much time anyhow—so it is flapjacks 1095 times in the year. We did not have any salt for two months, but a person can get along without a good many things. The tea leaves from breakfast are boiled over for lunch and supper. Everything has to be spun out as long as possible. There will be untold misery and starvation throughout the Yukon country next winter because most of the crazy people rushing in now will not be able to get out again till May or June next, and they are without sufficient food, clothing or shelter.

"The Yukon country is a hard, cruel country in summer on account of rain and swamps, gnats and mosquitoes, but more so in winter in the long nights without light, because the candles soon give out, without reading matter, etc.

"Now before I close, let me write a few lines about outfits. I have seen so many people with outfits put up at Seattle that I can truly say what a Seattle merchant doesn't know about fitting out a man for the Yukon would fill a book. How could he have this knowledge, having never fitted out men for the Arctic before? The Seattle supplies are mostly put in an unhandy packages, boxes, etc., and cannot be carried on a man's back for any distance without repacking. They are very poorly protected from the wet and rain. All goods are bound to get wet sometimes during the trip, the sugar will run out of the sacks, the salt ditto, the bacon will get soaky and mouldy. The sooner a man cuts loose from soap and toothbrushes and fancy pocket combs and frills and dainties, the better he is off in the Yukon.

"I see men here now daily returning from Chilcoot Pass, where they lost heart. A good man is able to make enough money in two years in the Yukon to last him for the rest of his life, by hard work and by saving his money.

"We would like to see about eight or ten good men who can outfit themselves for two years go in with us next spring, about March 1. We will give them all the information needed about outfits, etc., if they will write to us."

HANNA IS SAVED.

The Administration Senator From Ohio Will be Returned by a Narrow Majority.

GORMAN'S FATE IN DOUBT.

Bryan is Happily Pleased Over the General Returns From the Election.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 4—A careful revision of the estimates received at the two head quarters from county chairmen gives the state ticket to the republicans by 26,520, makes the senate close and gives the house to the republicans by a majority of 7. The house will stand 58 republicans and 51 democrats and the house 17 to 19.

All estimates place the fusion senators elected in Hamilton county on the democratic or anti-Hanna list, but Captain W. W. Peabody telephoned republican headquarters from Cincinnati that Senators-Elect Voight and Harper, who have always been republicans, will vote for Mr. Hanna and with the republicans on all party questions.

The friends of Mr. Hanna were much disconcerted yesterday over the report that some of the members-elect will not vote for the return of the Cleveland
man. It is said that Representative Redkey of Highland county, the early home of Senator Foraker, has positively asserted that he would not vote for
Mr. Hanna and that Representative Snider of Greene has pledged himself to his constituency to the same effect.
The whips of the party may have some work in January.

An analysis of the unofficial vote by counties indicate the fact that the anti-Hanna sentiment was not confined to the democrats. In more than one county Foraker adherents worked openly for the democratic legislative ticket.
The ultra-Foraker men wanted Hanna beaten and Bushnell elected, and much trading was done in the pursuit of the result.

The trouble began last summer, when National Committeeman Charles L.
Kurtz, the Foraker chairman of the state committee, was beaten for reappointment by the Hanna forces. Many Foraker men also realized the fact that Governor Bushnell was practically forced by the conditions to appoint Mr.
Hanna to succeed Mr. Sherman in the senate. A refusal to do this would have incurred the enmity of the administration and made Bushnell's re-election impossible.

Governor Bushnell carried the state
two years ago by 92,000; this year by a scant 18,000, the figure to which the McKinley majority of 51,000 last fall has been cut. The figures of today show that the bitter personal fight has told.

ELECTION NOTES.

Both sides claim Maryland and the fate of Senator Gorman is in doubt.

Republicans in South Dakota won six out of eight circuit court judges.

New York democrats appear to have control of the legislature.

The Nebraska returns are gloomy republican reading and Bryan has given out a happy statement to the associated press.

Dan Campau of Detroit has telegraphed the New York World that nothing can stop the election of Bryan in 1900.

Whether the silver republicans or fusionists won in Colorado is still unknown.

Republicans carried Massachusetts
by 86,000.

New Jersey's legislature will be republican by 21 majority.

A number of the Henry George campaign committee made the following statement yesterday:

"The returns have justified the course we pursued. We are not ashamed of the showing Henry George made. The number of votes cast for our candidate is more than enough to command recognition for us from either Tammany hall or the republican machine. The Jeffersonian party is now the only rival democratic party to Tammany, and when we next meet
Tammany the victory will be ours."

Marriage of White Man and Colored Girl Stopped.

NILES, Nov. 4.—The interference of friends Tuesday afternoon prevented the marriage of Kelly A. White, a deaf mute, and Miss Lottie Haggard, also deaf and dumb, both of South Bend. Several days ago Miss Haggard, who is colored, came here to visit friends. Tuesday Kelly came to Niles, and, late in the afternoon, Miss Haggard's friends became convinced that, by a prearranged plan, the white man and colored woman were making arrangements to get married yesterday on the quiet. An application had already been made for a license.

Miss Haggard's relatives at South Bend were telegraphed to. Two brothers came last night and took the girl home.

Miss Haggard belongs to a well-known colored family and is quite good looking. The white man also has respectable parents, and was staying here with a prominent family.

PERPLEXING QUESTIONS.

They Are Involved in Bank Suit at Lansing.

LANSING, Nov. 4.—Great interest is manifested in the case, which is before Judge Person this week and which was brought by Receiver Foster, of the People's saving bank, to collect an assessment of 70 per cent on the stock of the concern for the benefit of depositors. The case is full of perplexing and intricate questions, a lack of decisions under the Michigan banking law adding to the difficulties encountered. There are a number of special defenses by individual stockholders, as well as the general defense in which all the stockholders are interested.

Testimony is being taken subject to the general exception that the court had proceeded by an ex parte order to fix the stockholders' liability before determining what creditors are entitled to share in the dividends to be obtained from the assessment. The point is also raised that the holders of certificates of deposit in the bank are investors and not depositors within the meaning of the law, and are not entitled to share in the money to be derived from an assessment upon the stockholders. Judge Chatterton argued that the stockholders are liable only to the commercial depositors and that the law shuts out savings deposits.

WOMAN'S BANK.

Thieves Make Easy Work of Blowing Up the Safe.

STURGIS, Nov. 4.—Tuesday night thieves broke into the L. S. & M. S. tool house, took out a lot of tools and a hand car, then ran to Shipshewana, Ind., and broke into Mrs. Davis' bank. They blew the safe to pieces and stole $9,000 and a lot of valuable papers. They escaped on the hand car to Middlebury, where they dumped the car into the Elkhart river.

Mrs. Davis is the only woman bank cashier in the United States. She has been in the banking business at Shipshewana for nearly twenty years.

Two weeks ago the Wakarusa, (Ind.) bank, twelve miles west of Shipshewana, was robbed and $3,000 taken. This robbery was done in much the same manner as the crime committed in La-Grange, Ind., two months ago, when the county treasurer's office was robbed of $1,000. In the latter case the men came here, got a hand car and went over the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad, committed the robbery and threw the car into a ditch.

At noon yesterday two bloodhounds, owned by C. E. Myers of Huntertown, Ind., were taken to Shipshewana and placed on the trail. Other bloodhounds have been telegraphed for. The Lake Shore company is doing all in its power to find the thieves, and the Davis brothers, owners of the bank, offer a large reward for their capture.

Much excitement prevails in the vicinity over the prevalence of crime. Several persons recently have been severely beaten and robbed of small amounts. One farmer near Brimfield was tortured to death by robbers two weeks ago, and it is feared an example will be made of some of the highwaymen if caught. The bloodhounds started at once for Bristol. William Kauffman, sheriff of La Grange county, has chosen a number of deputies to assist him in the capture of the robbers.

Business in the state land office has taken a decided boom lately. The receipts for October were $18,186.20, as against $4,716.16 for October, 1896. The sales of Agricultural college and school lands have noticeably increased, last month's receipts from the former having been $9,100 and from the latter $6,500.

The Bell Telephone company at Flint has announced a rate of $24 for business houses and $18 for residences. The new Lansing company, which is putting in a system, has the same rates. The state Telephone company has a franchise and intends entering the field at once. The two new companies are opposed to the Bell company.

Fourth-class Michigan postmasters were appointed Wednesday as follows: Lexington, Sanilac county, W. R. Nims, vice J. Bell, removed; Benona, Oceana county, C. E. Barnes, vice A. Nelson, removed.

Deafness of 12 Years Standing.—Protracted Catarrh produces deafness in many cases. Capt. Ben Connor of Toronto, Canada, was deaf for 12 years from Catarrh, all treatments failed to relieve. Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder gave him relief in one day, and in a very short while the deafness left him entirely. It will do as much for you. Send to Dr. J. C. Agnew, 112 East Main street, St. Louis, Mo.

As a surgeon collecting a mass of your patronage it is but just to you and to myself that I make some mention of my duties for the work I would undertake. I come of a medical family, my father, brother and many relatives being physicians. I have attended and hold credentials from leading homoeopathic and allopathic medical colleges. For eighteen years I have successfully conducted a large practice. I have held high office in State and National medical societies, and received honorary professional recognition from abroad. I have had considerable hospital experience, am something of a medical writer and author, and have been professor in reputable medical colleges.

These frank statements can be easily verified. If they commend me to your confidence it will give me pleasure to professionally advise and assist healthward all who need and desire my services.

I am prepared to and will practice all branches of medicine and surgery, but because of special research, experience and success in this direction, greatly prefer and particularly invite those suffering from obscure, complicated, delicate, and all chronic or lingering diseases to consult me. Obstinate cases that others have failed to cure are solicited.

My office is at 112 East Main street, one door east of the postoffice. Benton Harbor. Respectfully, C. EDSON COVEY, M. D. 261619 of the United States in Northwestern Washington is a region of unusual grandeur.

A wild craggy range of mountains, the Olympics, looks out upon the waters of the Pacific Ocean and the strait of Juan de Fuca. The high peaks of the range are crested with eternal snow and ice. Deep in their hollows are lakes of great depth and crystal purity. The flanks of the mountains are covered with the finest timber in the United States. Giant pines, cedars and fir rise 100, 200 and even 300 feet in the air. The streams race through wild ravines and are full of mountain trout. It is a paradise for the woodsman and angler. The lakes have large and new varieties of trout in them that fight viciously for life. It is a land little known and explored, perhaps less so than any region of equal area in the United States.

The Northern Pacific's new tourist book Wonderland 97, has a chapter on this section, and it will be sent to any address by Chas. S. Fee, Gen'l Pass. Agent, St. Paul, Minn., upon receipt of six cents in postage stamps.

BIG FIRE AVERTED

Timely Discovery of a Blaze in the De Long Home.

A fire last evening about 5 o'clock in the dwelling on Brunson avenue owned by Mrs. George Tatman and occupied by Attorney Nelson De Long did considerable damage. Destroying two chenille curtains, a valuable chair and several yards of carpet aside from the injury by smoke to every article of furniture in the room.

The fire is thought to have originated from an explosion of the stove. Mrs. De Long was calling on a neighbor and when she returned the house was full of smoke. An alarm of fire was turned in and when the firemen arrived they found the sitting room black with smoke. A chair near the stove upon which two chenille curtains rested was in flames and the carpet in the vicinity was burning. The flames were extinguished with chemicals.

A postmaster of the University of the Pacific, the superior enterprise of the Yankee skippers years ago. The Bedford whalers left port for many a long voyage, sometimes to the far north, at other times to the far south. These intrepid followers of the sea sought and pursued the whale in the ice clad latitudes about the poles with a natural fearlessness. A squadron sent out by Russia to explore the south seas and reach the pole if possible had attained a degree of latitude which the commodore proudly told himself had never been reached before by white men or other human beings. While he reflected upon the fame that would surely embellish his name, his sailors cried, "Land ho!" Off to the south he descried a long, low lying bit of land and hastened to shape his course to reach it, there to plant the Russian standard on its highest point, claiming it in the name of his majesty.

What was his disgust and astonishment when, as his vessel approached the shore, he observed, over a bit of headland, a flag fluttering from a mast-head. In a few minutes a little schooner poked her nose around the point and came sailing smoothly over the waves toward his vessel. The lean Yankee captain, who was standing in the rigging as the schooner came up in the wind, yelled:

"Ahoy, there! What ship is that?"

"His majesty's ship the —"

"Well, this is the Nantucket from Rhode Island. We're doing a little piloting in these latitudes, and if you want to run in the cove yonder, why, we'll pilot you in for a small charge."

The admiral's disgust caused him to square his sails around and shape his course for Russia.—Harper's Round Table.

Atmospheric Weight.

At the sea level, with the barometer marking 30 inches and the thermometer 32 degrees F., a cubic foot of pure dry air weighs about 565 grains troy. The weight of a cubic foot of water vapor, under the same conditions, is only 352 grains. When vapor is mixed with dry air, therefore, the resulting compound is lighter—that is to say, damp air is lighter than dry air. In stormy weather the air is lighter than it is in fair weather and not heavier, as many persons suppose. When smoke hangs about the surface of the earth, it shows that the air is lighter than the smoke. When the air is dry, it is heavier than the smoke, and the latter therefore ascends.

The weight of the earth's atmosphere, or, in other words, the pressure exerted upon the earth by the atmosphere, is about the same as would be exerted by a flood of water 33 feet in height over the globe. At the sea level the pressure of the atmosphere is about 15 pounds to the square inch. A man of ordinary size thus bears all the time a pressure of about 30,000 pounds, but he does not feel it, because the pressure is exerted in every direction, above, below and around him, and because his body is filled with air and other fluids that press outward, thus maintaining a state of equilibrium.—Philadelphia Times.

The Stormy Gulf.

The gulf of Mexico is a water of storms, not frequent, but frenziedly violent. It is, in effect, an immense sculler cut from the land, and hurricanes seem to gravitate to it naturally. They are born in the neighborhood of the Saragossa sea, strike the West Indies and not infrequently leave those islands at a tangent, just as a ball thrown at an obtuse angle against a wall slides along it for a little space and again seeks vacancy. These erratic forces of the air strike the coast of Mexico, or the coast of Texas, according to their angle, and death is in their track. The things called "tidal waves" in that section are not really tidal waves. They are not caused by an upheaval. They are merely local in effect. They are not vast walls of water moving with resistless speed and weight over the face of the ocean. They are waters banked up against a low coast by wind pressure until they overflow. In many instances the submergence is gradual and ample opportunity for escape is given. Other times the violence of the air makes them sudden and people are drowned.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Rock Work and Plants in Aquariums.

In the best modern aquarium practice the rockwork in the tanks is simple in construction and limited to a minimum in bulk. Elaborate rockwork is more difficult to keep clean, and if bulky it displaces, of course, just so much water, and so lessens the sustaining power of the tank, but rockwork in some form or vegetation is desirable for the comfort of the fishes. There are fishes that like to loaf around rocks or perhaps to creep under them. In nature they find food in such places, and it may be shelter from their enemies, and there are fishes equally accustomed to plants of one sort and another, and almost all fishes at times like seclusion or places where they can go by themselves. In an aquarium it is a common thing to see a fish motionless behind some slender plant which does not conceal it, but does serve as a place of retreat.—New York Sun.

Curls Tell the Story.

When a woman is young, she does her hair up with many curls and flourishes, but the curls and flourishes disappear as time rolls on, and after she has been married a few years it is worn in a hard little knot in the back, showing neither time nor attention. Her hair is also a great thermometer to her feelings. As long as she has social ambitions she curls it though the steak burns. When an old girl who has worn her hair plain for years begins suddenly to curl it again, look for a light in her parlor on Sunday evenings.—Aston Globe.

Rice paper is not made from either rice or rice straw, but from a pithy plant found in China, Japan and Japan.
